

Results Reporter

Out of 8 questions, you answered 8 correctly with a final grade of 100%

8 correct
(100%)

0 incorrect
(0%)

0 unanswered
(0%)

Your Results:

The correct answer for each question is indicated by a ✓.

1
CORRECT

Which type of intelligence deals with the ability to reason, solve abstract problems, and understand complex relationships?

- A) Word Smart
- ✓  B) Logic Smart
- C) Picture Smart
- D) Music Smart

Feedback: Logic Smart- Logical/Mathematical Intelligence -This intelligence deals with the ability to reason, solve abstract problems, and understand complex relationships. Intelligence in this area is also a good predictor of academic success. People with this type of intelligence are logical, orderly thinkers. It is easy for them to comprehend factual material. In school, they often ask a lot of questions. They like working with equations in subjects such as math and chemistry. They are often proficient with the computer. For recreation, they like games such as Clue, Battleship, or chess.

2
CORRECT

Which kind of intelligence relates to language skills?

- ✓  A) Word Smart
- B) Logic Smart
- C) Picture Smart
- D) Music Smart

D)

Feedback: Word Smart- Verbal/Linguistic Intelligence -This intelligence relates to language skills. It includes the ability to express yourself verbally, to appreciate complex meanings, and to detect subtle differences in the meanings of words. It is considered to be a key intelligence for success in college. People with this type of intelligence are likely to be good writers and good spellers. For recreation, they often like to do crossword puzzles or play word games like Scrabble. They have good memories for names and dates. They are often good at telling stories or giving speeches.

3
CORRECT

Which kind of intelligence involves the ability to think in three dimensions and to recreate one's experiences visually?

- A) Word Smart
- B) Logic Smart
- C) Picture Smart
- D) Music Smart

Feedback: Picture Smart-Visual/Spatial Intelligence - This is the ability to think in three dimensions and to recreate one's experiences visually. A painter, sculptor, or an architect is able to manipulate a form in space. People who have this type of intelligence like to visualize each step in their mind when they are given a set of directions. They are the "finders." Many can readily retrieve missing objects in the home by recalling a visual memory of where the objects were last seen. In order to process complex information,they like to draw pictures, graphs, or charts. They learn more in class when information is given by means of videos, movies, or slides. For recreation, they often like to do puzzles or mazes.

4
CORRECT

Which kind of intelligence involves is the ability to hear pitch, tone, and rhythm?

- A) Word Smart
- B) Logic Smart
- C) Picture Smart
- D) Music Smart

Feedback: Music Smart- Musical/Rhythmic Intelligence - This is the ability to hear pitch, tone, and rhythm. People with this type of intelligence often sing or hum throughout the day. They enjoy dancing and can keep time with the music. They often need to listen to music when they study. It is very easy for them to remember the words and melodies of songs.

---

5
CORRECT

Which kind of intelligence involves the skill in detecting the moods and intentions of others?

- A) Body Smart
- B) People Smart
- C) Self Smart
- D) Environment Smart

Feedback: People Smart- Interpersonal Intelligence- This is the ability to interact well with people. A person who excels in this area is especially skillful in detecting the moods and intentions of others. A politician might display this type of intelligence. People with this type of intelligence are often found in leadership positions. They tend to be empathic people who communicate well with others. They often make good mediators and are called upon to help settle other people's problems and conflicts.

---

6
CORRECT

Which kind of intelligence places the emphasis on control of the body and the skillful handling of objects?

- A) Body Smart
- B) People Smart
- C) Self Smart
- D) Environment Smart

Feedback: Body Smart- Bodily/Kinesthetic, Intelligence - This intelligence places the emphasis on control of the body and the skillful handling of objects. The mind clearly coordinates the movements of the body. An athlete, pianist, or dancer might excel in this area. People with this type of intelligence are often Mr. or Ms. Fix-it. They enjoy repairing things. They often use many gestures when they speak. They are good at competitive sports. For recreation, they prefer physical activities like bicycling, rollerblading, skate boarding, or swimming.

---

7
CORRECT

Which kind of intelligence would someone have who tends to notice and value diversity among plants and animals?

- A) Body Smart

- People Smart
- B)  Self Smart
- C) Environment Smart
- D) Environment Smart

Feedback: Environment Smart- Naturalistic Intelligence -This is the ability to appreciate and respect the environment and nature. People with this type of intelligence probably enjoy being outdoors and participating in hiking, camping, and gardening. They tend to notice and value diversity among plants and animals. They like studying such subjects as astronomy, zoology, and geology. A farmer or an oceanographer might display this type of intelligence.

8
CORRECT

Which kind of intelligence involves the ability to understand your own feelings and to use the insight gained to guide your actions?

- A) Body Smart
- B) People Smart
- C) Self Smart
- D) Environment Smart

Feedback: Self Smart- Intrapersonal Intelligence -This is the ability to understand your own feelings and to use the insight gained to guide your actions. People with this type of intelligence set reasonable goals for themselves and take steps to accomplish those goals. They often study by themselves, and they need time to be alone with their thoughts.