

Results Reporter

Out of 6 questions, you answered 6 correctly with a final grade of 100%

6 correct
(100%)

0 incorrect
(0%)

0
unanswered
(0%)

Your Results:

The correct answer for each question is indicated by a ✓.

1
CORRECT

What is scanning?

- reading the first and last sentences of each paragraph
- A) moving rapidly through the material, skipping the information you are already familiar with
- ✓ C) the process of quickly searching reading material in order to locate specific bits of information
- reading the text as fast as possible
- D)

Feedback:

Scanning is the process of quickly searching reading material in order to locate specific bits of information. When you scan, you don't start at the beginning and read through to the end. Instead, you jump around in the text trying to find the information you need. You may wish to read the first and last sentences of each paragraph because that is often where main ideas are located. Read the introduction and the summary if one is provided.

2
CORRECT

What is skimming?

- reading the first and last sentences of each paragraph
- A) moving rapidly through the material, skipping the information you are already familiar with
- ✓ C) the process of quickly searching reading material in order to locate specific bits of information
- reading the text as fast as possible
- D)

Feedback:

The purpose of skimming is to gain a quick overview in order to identify the main points. When skimming, you will often skip words, sentences, and paragraphs. When you are satisfied that you have a general understanding of the author's key points, you put the reading material aside. Skimming, then, serves as a substitute for careful reading. When you are skimming, be sure to move rapidly through the material, skipping the information you are already familiar with. When skimming a textbook chapter, glance quickly at the title, subheadings, italicized words, boldface print, and illustrations. You may wish to read the first and last sentences of each paragraph because that is often where main ideas are located. Read the introduction and the summary if one is provided.

3
CORRECT

The purpose of _____ is to gain a quick overview in order to identify the main points.

- scanning
- A) scanning
- ✓ B) skimming
- C) summarizing
- D) note-taking

Feedback:

The purpose of skimming is to gain a quick overview in order to identify the main points.

4
CORRECT

When _____, you will often skip words, sentences, and paragraphs.

- scanning
- A) scanning
- ✓ B) skimming
- C) summarizing
- D) note-taking

Feedback: When skimming, you will often skip words, sentences, and paragraphs. When you are satisfied that you have a general understanding of the author's key points, you put the reading material aside. Skimming, then, serves as a substitute for careful reading.

5
CORRECT

When you are skimming, you

- move rapidly through the material.
- A) skip the information you are already familiar with.
- glance quickly at the title, subheadings, italicized words, boldface print, and illustrations.
- C) All of the above.
- D)

Feedback: When you are skimming, be sure to move rapidly through the material, skipping the information you are already familiar with. When skimming a textbook chapter, glance quickly at the title, subheadings, italicized words, boldface print, and illustrations.

6
CORRECT

Which parts of each paragraph should you read when skimming or scanning a reading selection?

- first sentence
- A) last sentence
- B) second sentence
- C) Both a and b.
- D)

Feedback: You may wish to read the first and last sentences of each paragraph because that is often where main ideas are located. Read the introduction and the summary if one is provided.